

MB-77HS

Lift and slide balcony door

---

The MB-77HS lift and sliding balcony door with a thermal barrier system is used to make elements of external architectonic development which are characterized by high thermal and acoustic insulation as well as water- and air-tightness. This system meets all energy saving and environmental requirements. The parameters of the door which consists of MB-77HS system elements exceed the requirements of even the strictest applicable regulations and standards.

Features of MB-77HS system:

If you have any questions or doubts, Aluprof S.A. specialists will offer you any help and advice.

